NORTHERN ZONE

Migration Pattern

SERENGETI MIGRATION MAP

1. DECEMBER – MARCH

The calving: An estimated 400,000 calves are born which can draw a staggering number of predators eager to prey on the vulnerable young.

2. APRIL

The trek north: Herds move slowly northwards to fresh grazing.

3. MAY – JUNE

The rut: May is the mating season but still the journey continues, some herds move west towards the Grumeti River, and this is the first point on the route where river crossings can be seen.

4. JULY – OCTOBER

River crossings: The river crossings usually start in July, but the timing all depends on the rains. Although never guaranteed, crossings can regularly be seen at the Mara and Talek rivers.

5. NOVEMBER

The trek south: When the rains begin in November, the herds usually cross back to the Serengeti from the Masai Mara and head back towards the now fertile southern Serengeti.

By the beginning of December, Ndutu starts seeing the herds return to calve, and the whole process begins again.

DAY 8: SERENGETI - DEPARTURE - FLY OUT

Farewell to the Wild

After breakfast, enjoy a final en-route game drive as you transfer to the Serengeti airstrip for your scheduled flight to Arusha. Upon arrival, relax at your hotel for a brief refreshment before your transfer to the airport for your onward international flight—or extend your journey to the idyllic shores of Zanzibar for a relaxing beach escape. Contact us to arrange your extension.

Scenic Flight Note:

On a clear day, enjoy breathtaking aerial views of Oldonyo Lengai and Lake Natron from the sky.

OPTIONAL ZANZIBAR EXTENSION:

Tropical Escape & Coastal Luxury

After your safari, unwind on the idyllic shores of Zanzibar, where white-sand beaches and turquoise waters offer pure relaxation, with optional visits to Stone Town and ocean experiences creating the perfect finishing touch to your journey.

Hot Air Balloon

An exhilarating hot air balloon ride over the vast savanna plains is the ultimate game viewing experience. Arrive at your launch site just before dawn where your pilot gives the preflight briefing before you climb into the basket and prepare for lift off as the sun rises over the distant hills. Your journey gives you a bird's eye view of the wildlife on the plains below as you search for leopard in the branches of an acacia tree or watch hippo wallowing in the river below. Your flight takes about forty five minutes at varying altitudes while your ground crew follows to assist you on landing. Your pilot gives the traditional balloonist toast followed by breakfast, cooked on the balloon burners (the bacon is crispy) and served on the open plains. Enjoy a game viewing drive as you return to camp.
